

Fulvic Bio Granular

100% natural and sustainable soil conditioner in a zeolite granule

Introduction

Fulvic Bio Granular is a new granular formulation of Solufeed's well proven, natural and sustainable liquid fulvic acid soil improver.

The granules are based on natural zeolite (clinoptilolite), a mineral known for its cation exchange capacity which improves fulvic acid retention in the root zone.

Uses

Incorporate into growing media such as peat or coir.

Mix into seedbeds and planting soils.

Apply as a top dressing around row crops such as vines and top fruit. Also turf and forestry.

Benefits

All the proven soil improving benefits of Fulvic Bio: a natural complexing agent that releases nutrients from the soil and enables uptake into the plant. A source of food for beneficial soil organisms.

Zeolite holds the fulvic acid in the root zone giving slow-release effect and reducing leaching.

Less product works better for longer.

Easy to apply by hand or machine.

Readily incorporates into growing media or soils.

Zeolite granules of long-term benefit to soil quality.
